

Welcome to our course – Sadarangani 2024

Hello!

I am excited that you have signed up for Jhumpa Lahiri's Short Stories as a Window into the Indian-Immigrant Experience.

Attached is the course syllabus that includes a weekly schedule. As the course description and the syllabus say, you will have an enhanced experience if you read the stories ahead of the discussions, but reading is not required. If you can get a copy of Interpreter of Maladies (any edition), it will be helpful to you; used copies are available online. You can also search for copies of the stories posted online. Please see the syllabus for other details.

If you like, you may read the story “When Mr. Pirzada Came to Dine” before March 27. We will begin to discuss it during our first class meeting.

I am looking forward to meeting you in our OLLI classroom at 11:30 AM on March 27.

Warmly,
Umeeta

Umeeta Sadarangani, Ph.D. (she/her)